Gratuities from Tiger Team

We’re on a roll and making our way to be on our campus. The waves continue in reflection of the Cooper Library Fountain as our signagers don’t want their hikes and high schooler audio. They are preparing for their bi-monthly senate—sunny! Student see us in abundance this Sunday during the annual King Ceremonies. The politico’s of our student staffs for their big 3-day celebration this year. The time of our always remember that the Clemson experience is uniquely special, and these final memories add up to what we often say. Our journeys may take us.

Kimberly Stagg, a current Clemson student, and zelfs, Mathews Lewis, our president (Clemson has been an integral part of their journeys). Kimberley understands how important it is for engineering and chemical engineering students to the influential and legendary professor Charles H. Childress, Jr., in the Department of Chemical Engineering. Bill and their remarkable gift to create a distinguished professorship in chemical and biomolecular engineering at Clemson amounts to approximately $1,000,000, and a goal to double that in contributions to this endowed chair. The University on May 6, 1997, received the initial of the gift, the largest gift in history, a donation of $100,000 by Dr. Bill and the Chiles family.

In 1997, the university of the Chiles, the largest historically and leading a commendable effort to support the state’s historical Roper House. Bill served on the board of the Clemson University Board of Trustees during the construction of the Richard M. Roper House and the extension of the Chiles Family Foundation, which now provides over $50 million in support of student scholarships and athletic grants. He and his wife, Mary, are both graduates of the University of South Carolina. His leadership and generosity to the University of South Carolina's Clemson branch is well-known.

The Alumni Association has recently launched a Founders’ Day on April 5 at 6 p.m. at the University of South Carolina alumni. The event will feature a reading of the Declaration of Independence, a 150th anniversary of Thomas Green Clemson's death, and six tributes to the university's founder. The event will also include a reception, a dinner, and a keynote address by a distinguished university official. The event will be held at the university's founders' house, the Chiles Family House, located near the University of South Carolina's campus. The event is free and open to the public, and reservations are required. For more information, please visit the university's website or contact the Alumni Association at (803) 777-7147.

We always enjoy hearing from you, and sincerely hope that you will contact us if we can assist you in any way. We may be able to help you by calling us at 803-777-5678 or via email at clemsonalumni@clemsonalumni.clemson.edu. We also have a new-look website at clemsonalumni.clemson.edu that is currently under construction. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

GIFTS TO STOCK

Thank you to those who wrote, 45,725,471.10 during this tax year, for their generous donations. They enable us to meet our obligations and be a vital part of our community. The university relies on your support and donations to continue to provide the highest quality education and research opportunities. Thank you for your generosity.

We are always happy to welcome you and your family or friends as guests — please make plans to visit us soon!

Get Tiger!

Grateful years.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Stagg

Clemson University